With the onset of monsoon, nice transformation is taking place.

Monsoon always does the magic. It has arrived on-time and brought a pleasant change in the atmosphere. Surroundings are turning greener and there is a nice aroma in the air. The change is percolating in every sphere of life. Embracing this change, Grind Master wants to keep abreast of the changing business environment. The economy is growing; and policy reforms such as GST implementation and a change in financial year are in the offing.

In tune with this, transformation is taking place at Grind Master. It's being taking place at all levels - from junior engineers to senior management. Grind Master has global ambitions and to fulfil those ambitions, it is becoming more active and proactive to customer needs. New business systems and HR policies are being put in place. Grind Master is in the process of reinventing itself. This journey is exciting and challenging. You are at the centre of this journey. Let's make it memorable and fun.
